WiebeTech announces 400GB Storage Products;
 Also Price Reductions on G5Jam storage system.

WICHITA, KS-- August 30, 2004 -- WiebeTech announces many of its popular storage enclosures are now available with Hitachi's new 400GB IDE drives.

"400GB drives have been frequently requested by users, and we're pleased that they are now shipping from WiebeTech," said James Wiebe, CEO of WiebeTech. "We've added many new configurations of our various desktop enclosures based on 400GB drives. For instance, we now have a 400GB version of our popular Fire800(TM) desktop enclosure, giving users a high density, high performance storage system. Fire800 with a 400GB drive is priced at $649.95."

WiebeTech has also reduced pricing on its popular G5Jam storage expansion system. Users can now purchase a basic G5Jam expansion system (without drives) for only $399.95. The price of a fully configured G5Jam 1.6 Terabyte system (using 4 Hitachi 400GB drives) has been reduced in price by $500, and is now priced at $2999.95.
